

PEACE PROPOSAL WILL BE READY MAY FIRST UNDER PRESENT PLANS

BY FRED S. FERGUSON.
Paris, April 12.—Talk of an "Easter peace" today had given way to promise of a "May day peace."
While the most chronic optimists admitted the last hope of peace by April 20 apparently had vanished, there was a general feeling that the treaty would be ready for presentation to the Germans by May 1, at least.
Persons close to the Big Four intimated that an agreement has virtually been reached now on all important questions—reparations, responsibility for the war, the Saar Valley, disposition of Fiume and Danzig and German boundaries.
The military, naval and aerial terms of the treaty have been completed four weeks. The revised league of nations' covenant is ready for submission to a plenary session.
An instance of how the covenant is interwoven with the treaty is provided in the settlement of the Saar problem. The "big four" agreed that region would be under political supervision of the league for a period of years, while France controls the important coal mines there, final ownership of which will be determined by a plebiscite directed by the league.

The league commission, at last night's meeting, approved the remaining articles of the re-draft. It was understood that neither the Japanese amendment for racial equality, nor the French amendment for an international general staff were added.
Both nations, according to unofficial information, reserved the right to submit these amendments to the plenary session for general discussion.
The new article providing for recognition of the Monroe doctrine, it was learned today, declares substantially that nothing in the covenant shall be construed as invalidating treaties of arbitration or regional agreements such as the Monroe doctrine.

FOUR HUNDRED CINCY FIREMEN RESIGN JOBS

Cincinnati, April 12.—City firemen, who tendered a blanket resignation to city officials yesterday, as the result of discharge of four firemen because they belonged to a union organization, started leaving fire houses about 7 A. M. today.
The resignation carried the names of 436 firemen and was to become effective at 7 A. M.
During the night city officials stated 35 of the men had asked that their names be stricken from the resignation, and that they retain their places with the department.
Home Guards were in readiness to take the places of the firemen as soon as the exact number who quit has been determined.

FIRE HOSE USED IN BERLIN RIOTS

Berlin, April 12.—A unit of soldiers from the Reinhardt Volunteer Brigade streams of water from fire hose, improvised bootjacks and knives played a part in preventing employees of the Deutsche Bank, who had voted to continue work, entering the main office.
Strikers also extended their efforts to other banks and the seven largest banking institutions in Berlin closed today.
Strikers' pickets appeared at the Deutsche Bank at 6 o'clock in the morning. A struggle ensued when the clerks who wanted to work attempted to force an entrance. Strikers, although in the minority, were re-enforced by Suartacan volunteers.
Some adventurous strikers entered the building with a fire hose and directed it at the struggling crowd outside. Bludgeons and knives were being used freely when a company of Reinhardt troops arrived and dispersed both the strikers and the workers.

WIRELESS STATION IS PUT UP AT HIGH SCHOOL

Students of Central High School started to work Friday evening in erecting the wireless outfit formerly maintained at the school which was taken down at the time the government requested that no plants be operated except the government wireless stations.
At the time there was a good small station working at the school, having been erected by the students, and since the war is now over the station is being put up again. Lyon Galloway, who was in radio work in the navy, and who maintained a station at his home on West Main street before enlisting, also expects to put his plant up again soon.

STUDENT OVERFLOW REQUIRES ERECTION OF NEW BUILDING

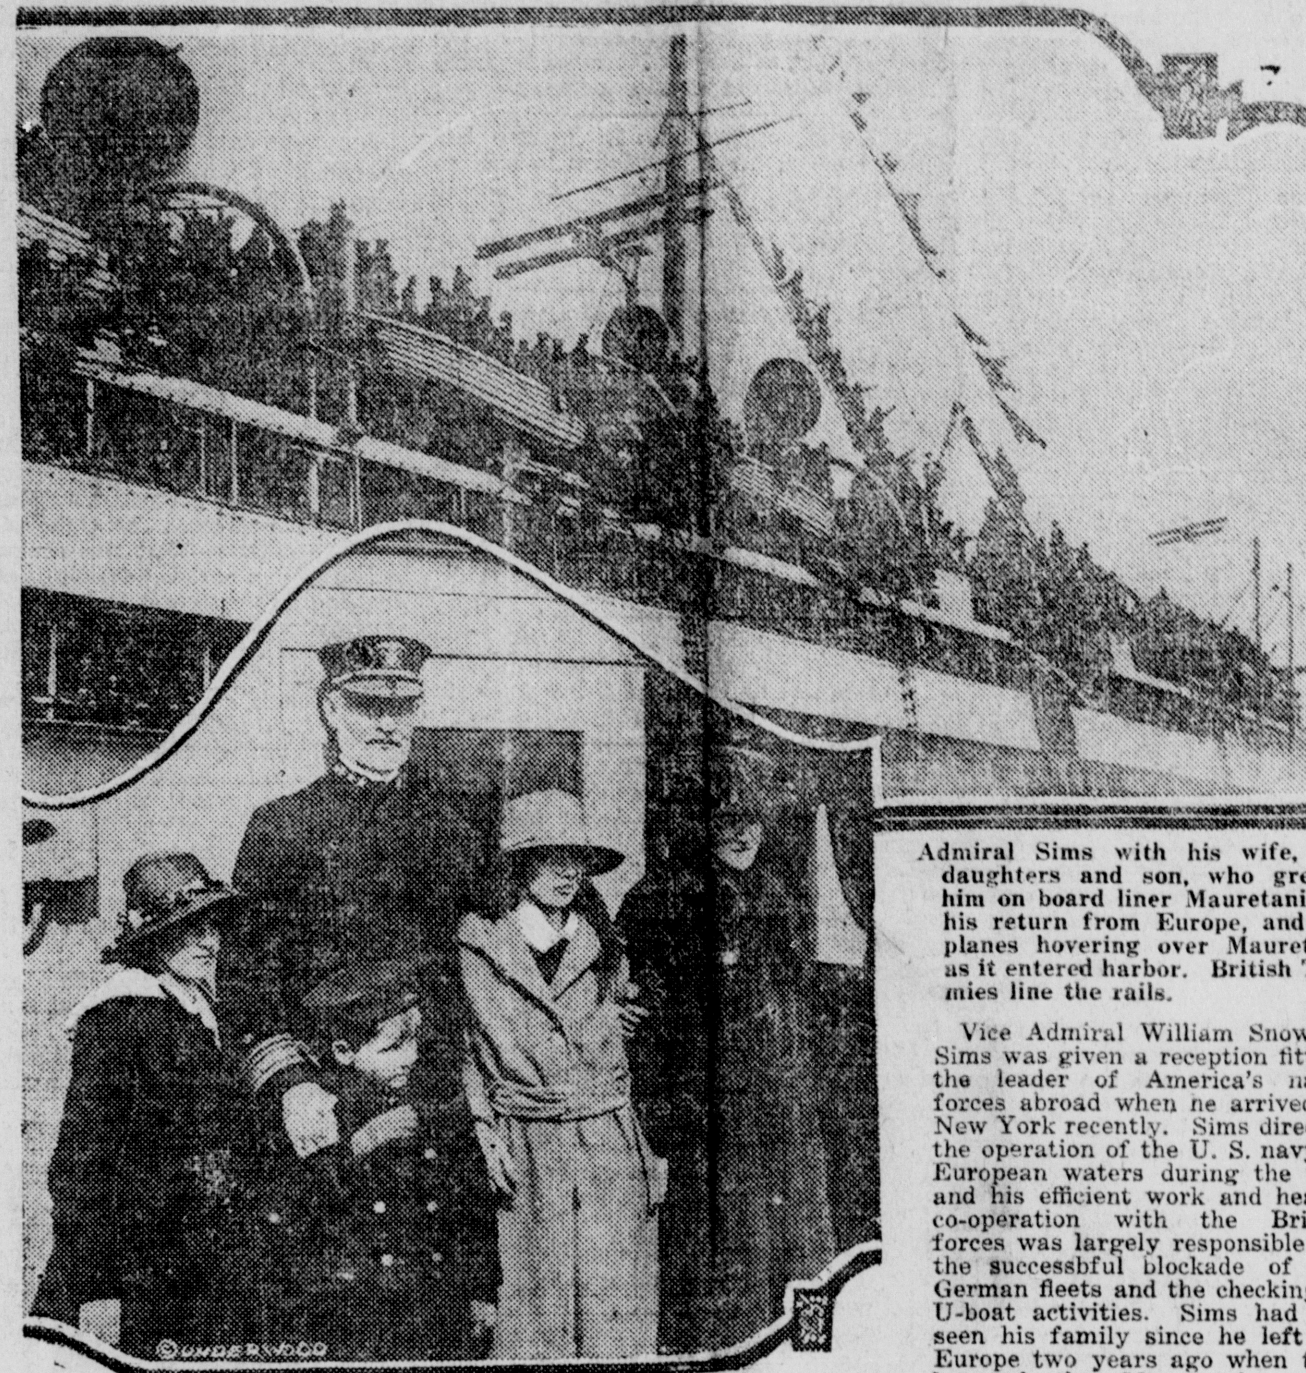

To accommodate the overflow from Central High School, which this year is crowded to capacity, a temporary frame building is being erected in the school yard, back of the school building.
Material for erecting the annex was furnished by action of the Board of Education and the manual training classes of the school are doing the construction work. Freshmen and Sophomore manual training students have already started the skeleton of the building, which will be divided into four rooms and will accommodate four classes.
It is not known what classes will be established in the annex, but it is thought that the lower grades will be taken care of there to allow expansion of the High School department.
Such a crowded condition also exists at McKinley building where one room contained 54 children, until part of them were accommodated in the auditorium.
The fact that such a temporary structure has to be built to accommodate the number of school children is to be deplored, and it is hoped that a new and amply large building will soon solve the problem.
One new building for the High School, permitting of use of the rest of the rooms at Central building for the grades would relieve the crowded conditions wherever they exist in any of the city school buildings.

COMPANY OF U. S. TROOPS MUTINY IN RUSSIA

Washington, April 12.—Bolshevik propaganda is officially held responsible for the mutiny of an American infantry company in Northern Russia.
Chief of Staff March, in announcing today that Company I, of the 339th Infantry comprised the offending troops read a message from the commanding officer at Archangel, which stated that the questions put by the men to their officers, were the same as the bolsheviks in their propaganda leaflets advised them to ask.
Company I consists almost entirely of Detroit men.

ADMIRAL SIMS HONORED ON RETURN FROM EUROPEAN SERVICE

Admiral Sims with his wife, two daughters and son, who greeted him on board liner Mauretania on his return from Europe, and airplanes hovering over Mauretania as it entered harbor. British Tomies line the rails.

Vice Admiral William Snowdon Sims was given a reception fitting the leader of America's naval forces abroad when he arrived at New York recently. Sims directed the operation of the U. S. navy in European waters during the war and his efficient work and hearty co-operation with the British forces was largely responsible for the successful blockade of the German fleets and the checking of U-boat activities. Sims had not seen his family since he left for Europe two years ago when they boarded the Mauretania.

YANKEE TROOPS IN RUSSIA PROMISED TO BE REMOVED BY FIRST OF JUNE

Washington, April 12.—Yankee troops in northern Russia will be assured by the war department that their tenure of Arctic service against the bolsheviks will soon be over.
Chief of staff March already has announced that the last man should be out of that region by June 1. Reassurances are expected here to quiet the unrest among American troops, some of whom nearly mutined several days ago as a climax to a long period of discontent at being held in service. The refusal of some of these troops to go into front line trenches

PROVINCE OF QUEBEC AND MEXICO ONLY WET SPOTS ON CONTINENT

Montreal, April 12.—The Province of Quebec today is assured of becoming the great oasis of the North American continent.
With the United States and the rest of Canada just about to become arid, this province has voted "wet".
The only other wet area of this continent in a few months will be Mexico.
Strong liquors are under the ban in this province, but beer and wine survived the prohibition wave, according to tabulation of votes cast in yesterday's election to exempt those drinks from the "dry" law. The wets rolled up a majority of 100,000.

Budapest, April 12.—Heavy street fighting occurred in Agram (160 miles southwest of Vienna) when Serbian troops attempted to restore order during a riot which developed in a peasant's mass meeting, a Fiume dispatch reported today. Several radical agitators were arrested.
Half a million men and women voted in Monday's soviet elections in Budapest, it was announced today. A new vote was ordered in one district, the government charging illegal balloting.

TWO FIRES CAUSE $200,000 LOSS IN CITY OF PITTSBURGH

Pittsburgh, Penn., April 12.—Two spectacular fires destroyed buildings in different sections of the downtown district, entailing a loss of between $150,000 and $200,000.
When firemen were fighting a general alarm fire in Duquesne way, another broke out in First avenue in a building occupied by the Atlantic Glass company, and soon assumed alarming proportions.
Virtually all the apparatus in the city was summoned when fire, preceded by explosions, swept the Duquesne way building, occupied by the Electric Manufacturing and Repair company and the Baird Machinery company.

SISTER HALTS PARADE WHEN SHE SEES YANK REPORTED AS DEAD

Cleveland, Ohio, April 12.—A shrill scream rang out above the welcoming shouts of deliriously glad thousands when veterans of the One Hundred and Forty-fifth Infantry were marching through Euclid avenue Thursday.
The cry came from Miss Hilda Johnson, of Steubenville, who formerly resided here.

Gazing intently for a few moments at the khaki-clad troops marching by, Miss Johnson suddenly threw a gold service flag into the street, brushed aside a policeman who sought in vain to stop her and dashed toward the column of soldiers, interfering with the front rank of a marching company, heedless of the protests, straight into the arms of Private Elmer C. Johnson.

She hugged and kissed him time and again and then cried for joy.
"You're crazy," shouted on-lookers.
"Of course I'm crazy," shouted Miss Johnson. "What girl would not be crazy when she saw a brother mourned as dead marching along bright and chipper in a parade?"
The crowd cheered as Miss Johnson walked along with her brother. She remained with him the rest of the day.
The family was notified of the death of Private Johnson last November. His mother died later.
Miss Johnson said she came here "because the papers said the spirits of the dead heroes would march with the living, and I desired to be near."

DECLARES GERMANY WILL NOT SIGN THE PEACE PACT

Berlin, Thursday, April 12.—Count Von Brockdorff-Rantzau, Foreign Minister, speaking before the National Assembly at Weimar said Germany would not sign a peace treaty which deviated in any essential from President Wilson's "Fourteen Points."
"The financial demands to be made in the peace treaty obviously are causing as much difficulty to our opponents as those regarding territory," the foreign minister said.
"It is impossible to solve the question of financial claims without negotiating with our opponents at the conference table. We will give a clear account to our opponents relative to their demands and our ability to pay."
"Our opponents cannot dismember and paralyze Germany and at the same time extract from the resources of the country the enormous sums they expect from them."
"For that purpose we require the release industriously and agricultural of the important West, which contrary to the armistice terms is cut off from the rest of Germany."
"We need to have the blockades speedily raised and we require the importation of foodstuffs on conditions which will make their purchase possible."

LLOYD GEORGE MAY DEMAND GERMAN EMPEROR'S HEAD

Paris, April 12.—A roll call of the whole peace conference may be necessary to determine whether the former kaiser is to be hanged or otherwise corporally punished for his crimes.
The committee on responsibility for the war was divided on the question of personal punishment for Wilhelm. Great Britain, France and Italy favored it; the United States and Japan opposed it. The ultimate decision, it was said today, may have to be rendered when the plenary session discusses the committee's report.
The point at issue was a paragraph in the committee's report providing arraignment before an international court, or national courts, of all persons deemed guilty of military crimes, "regardless of rank."
The Japanese and American members made a reservation on this provision.
Twelve hundred and fifty copies of the report were ordered printed but the printing was held up because the dissenters wanted to include a memorandum setting forth the reasons for their objections, while the other three desired simply to note the fact that there was a dissenting opinion.

American objection was based on the inability to find any international law sanctioning prosecution of the heads of states, because it is legally assumed their actions are dictated by policies of state.
The Japanese protested they could not subscribe to a doctrine which would contradict their theory that an emperor is a sacred person reigning by Divine right.
There was some talk in British circles today that Premier Lloyd-George will demand Wilhelm's head in open conference. If he does not get it, the former kaiser's principle punishment is likely to be a paragraph in the committee's final report, condemning his actions, since there is reason to believe American legal objections will carry greater weight in the conference than they did in committee.

CONVENTION AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH COMES TO A CLOSE

At the fall of the president's gavel the last session of the Dayton Presbyterian came to order, Friday afternoon.
Mrs. Francis M. Fox of Springfield, had charge of the devotional hour. Mrs. Fox gave quite an interesting account of a pleasure trip she had taken around the world, and while passing through the countries of the Orient, the conditions appealed to her so strongly that she came home and prepared herself for a missionary to Japan. The experiences she related led up to her scripture lesson.
Miss Marie Preston again pleased her audience with an address on "Porto Rico, the Isle of Opportunity." She spent two years in kindergarten work there. She found the little Spanish boys and girls eager and willing to learn American ways and customs. In 1915 the school houses were filled and she did additional work in forming boys' clubs on the order of the Y. M. C. A. work. This kept on growing and increasing until last October when an earthquake destroyed their buildings. This week Miss Preston received word that the school had been rebuilt and modernized with industrial equipment.
Greetings and a beautiful bunch of American Beauty roses were sent to Miss Margaret Allison, a charter member of our local organization.
At this time Mrs. J. T. Ricks of Springfield, resigned as recording secretary. She was elected to this office 21 years ago, when the Presbyterian met in Xenia.
The following officers were elected for the coming year: Honorary president, Mrs. John H. Drury, of Troy; president, Miss Nan B. Williams of Dayton; was re-elected. The vice presidents are: Mrs. H. H. Beck of Dayton; Mrs. James Kratochwill of Dayton; Mrs. Robert Fisher of Hamilton; Mrs. H. W. Null of Franklin; Miss Florence White of Clinton; Mrs. W. F. Caldwell of Piqua. Corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. C. Redd of Greenville; Recording Secretary, Mrs. C. M. Minor of Springfield; Freedman Secretary, Mrs. J. O. C. McCracken of Xenia; Young People's Secretary, Miss Gertrude Stephan, Hamilton; Educational Secretary, Mrs. R. H. Long of Middletown; Secretary of Literature, Mrs. A. L. Kittredge of Dayton; Secretary of Associate Members, Mrs. F. J. Simpson of Eaton; Promoter of Wooster School of Missions, Mrs. Elizabeth Kirkpatrick of Hamilton; Presbyterian Historian, Mrs. J. King Gibson of Dayton; Treasurer, Mrs. John F. Campbell of Dayton and Asst. Treas. Mrs. C. C. McLean of Dayton.

Dayton gave an invitation to hold the next convention with them in 1920.
After voting the ladies of Xenia a hearty vote of thanks for their hospitality the 42nd convention closed by singing "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."
PARRETT MEETS OLD COMPANY AT DEPOT
B. W. Parrett, examiner from the State Bureau of Accounting, who is auditing the books of county officials, met every one of a company of soldiers whom he trained at Batavia, when the company passed through here with the One Hundred and Forty-eighth infantry Friday afternoon.
The company became a part of the old Third Ohio national guard regiment, later the One Hundred and Forty-eighth, and went to France. Mr. Parrett went to the station hoping to see his boys, and was rewarded. They were all there. He followed them to Dayton Saturday morning.

XENIA HELPS GEM CITY CELEBRATE RETURN OF 148TH

Xenia migrated to Dayton Saturday morning.
Cars and trains were packed and automobiles crowded each other on the road in the general trend of traffic to the Gem City, where thousands of people paid homage to the returning heroes of the 148th Infantry, Ohio's own old Third Ohio which paraded there Saturday morning.
From the general movement of local people into Dayton there must have been thousands jamming the streets to greet the returning soldiers. Marching with full equipment they must have created an inspiring sight as they strode proudly through the human-lined streets. It was a fitting homecoming celebration accorded the heroes of the Miami Valley in Dayton Saturday.
The trains bearing the soldiers passed through this city Friday afternoon at which time crowds of local people visited the Pennsylvania depot in an effort to discern relatives or friends among those who left here so hopefully a few short months ago and are now so triumphantly returning.
The warriors were relieved from all military restrictions in Dayton Friday night and went where they pleased, a dance given in their honor by the War Community Service being a popular attraction.
Alighting from the train in this city, by permission of their commanding officers, several Xenia and Greene County soldiers spent Friday night here with relatives, going to Dayton early Saturday morning in order to be in the parade. From one of these lads it was learned that out of the original Co. I which went to the border which was claimed as Greene County's own, there are but four men left. The great majority of these men were transferred before they left this country and others were transferred to other units in France. The outfit was shot to pieces a number of times and its personnel is practically all composed of replacements.
Among local soldiers who stopped off here Friday night were Harold Whitt, son of S. J. Whitt, and who was transferred from Co. I, to the Headquarters Company, Cecil Baxter, Corporal Leach, who went to the border with the outfit when he was but 14 years of age, Clemmer, and several others. Lieutenant Homer Spahr came down from Columbus Thursday and went to Dayton Friday.

CONTEST FOR FIRST ATLANTIC FLIGHT

St. Johns, N. F., April 12.—Major C. W. F. Morgan, the British aviator, who arrived here on board the steamer "Sachsen," from Liverpool, was today speeding plans for a flight across the Atlantic in the Martinsyde plane, which he brought over with him. Morgan hopes to make his start before the larger Sopwith plane with which Harry Hawker plans to make the flight, can again take the air.
Hawker was all prepared to make the flight yesterday afternoon but was prevented by a stiff northwest wind and light snow showers.
Keen interest was manifested today in the contest to be the 1st to cross the Atlantic in an airplane. Until Morgan's arrival Hawker had clear field.
Morgan brought with him a complete R. E. 8 hangar, made of canvas, such as was used by the British during the war. The hangar can be put up in an hour and thus Morgan is not faced with the necessity of building a wooden hangar as Hawker was.

YOUNG BURGLARS ROB POSTOFFICE AND CLIFTON STORE

Rounding up of a gang of youthful burglars, who, twice within the last week, broke into the Edwards grocery at Clifton, in which the postoffice is situated, began with the arrest by Deputy Sheriff Birch Saturday morning, of June Reynolds, also known as Hurston, colored, 11 years of age.

After June had been brought before Juvenile Judge J. C. Marshall and questioned, warrants were issued for Otis Shinkle, white, Paul Johnson and Lawrence Smith, colored, all about 14 years old. The grocery was burglarized the first time last Saturday night, and a quantity of candies, tobacco and chewing gum taken. Again Thursday night the burglars visited the place, and that time, $3.50 worth of stamps, and 500 pennies were taken from the cash drawer of the postoffice. The grocery is the property of Robert Edwards, and L. M. Prince is the postmaster.

The deputy sheriff's visit to Clifton Saturday created a stir. Another lad whom young Reynolds pointed out to the officer as one of his companions in the burglary, began bawling loud enough to attract the entire village, when the sheriff called to him, and cried out that he "didn't know nothin' about that store thing" before he had been asked any questions about the burglary. His mother appeared and tried to remove the lad by force. He was finally allowed to go when the deputy sheriff learned from the marshal that there wasn't sufficient evidence at the time to hold the lad.

JUNIORS PLANNING BRILLIANT RECEPTION FOR THE SENIOR CLASS

The end of the war, the victory of the U. S. forces and the fact that there was no Junior Reception last year, will all have a telling effect in making this year's reception a most brilliant one, say the Juniors.

The class held a meeting Thursday afternoon at which time committees were appointed and definite plans laid to make the reception this year a very successful one. It will be held May 16, although the location has not been fully decided upon. It will be the second of the pre-graduation affairs at the school, the Senior class play "It Pays to Advertise," being presented May 8 and 9, according to present plans.

At Thursday afternoon's meeting the Juniors selected the Ophelia rose as their class flower, the dragon as their emblem and the motto in Latin meaning "To Attempt is to Succeed." Four committees were also appointed to handle plans for the reception. They are: Program committee, Lawrence Riddell, chairman, Lois Benbow, Gladys Shadrach, Arthur Bales and Myron Lane; invitation, Walker Taylor, chairman, Margaret Prugh and Henry Flynn; menu, Margaret Ballentine, chairman, Allen Kestle, Marjorie Hart, Richard Sayre and Elizabeth Galloway; decoration, Eva Arnold, chairman, Anita Moser, Thelma Flannery, Julia Keyes and Henry Flynn.

Miss Mary Katherine Dodds, will paint the place cards for the reception. Further plans for the reception also includes a little sketch which will be given by a small cast as a feature of the program.

Every Man is a Wise Man

Because every man has something to teach; the thing life through experience hrought him to do.

Nature but reproduces: man's experience taking the world where Nature stops builds it better; whether he makes an iron plow to improve the crooked stick—

Or turns mere rubber and cotton into pneumatic tires.

Experience is that unseen thing intires, the quality of which turns them out good or bad.

It vouches for Goodrich experience that Goodrich made the first American pneumatic tire, and ever since has fathered the improvement of automobile tires.

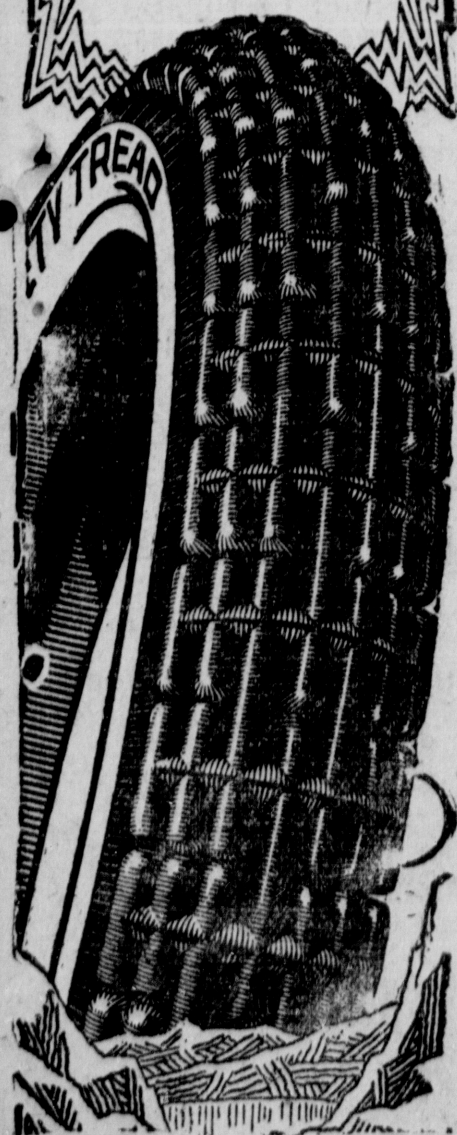

It shows in burly, full-rounded bodies, and thicker BLACK SAFETY TREADS, extra wide, fortifying the sidewall against rut scraping.

It returns value for your money in service value on your car on the road.

DR. W. S. RITENOUR GETS COMMISSION IN U. S. SERVICE

Dr. W. S. Ritenour, of Bellbrook, has received a commission as assistant surgeon in the United States Public Health Service. The appointment is by order of the President.

Notification of the honor was received Friday by Dr. Ritenour in a personal letter from Rupert Blue, surgeon general in the Public Health Service. The commission is in recognition of the government public health work done by Dr. Ritenour during the war at Anniston, Ala., and Raleigh, N. C., when he was epidemiologist in the zone surrounding war camps and government work.

He has not yet received an assignment in connection with the commission, but such an appointment will come.

Dr. Ritenour was practicing his profession in this city when, shortly after the United States entered the war, he enlisted in the public health service, and was sent to Anniston. His earnest, energetic work, and the results he accomplished while engaged in that service, were recognized by his higher officials, with the result that the constitution of assistant surgeon was conferred upon him, meaning his retention in the service in which he was so valuable to the government.

Since being discharged from the service, Dr. Ritenour has been at Bellbrook, where he expected to open an office and resume the practice of his profession.

This makes the favorite Spring medicine, Hood's Sarsaparilla, more of a necessity now than ever before.

For your impure, exhausted blood, and for that extreme tired feeling sure to come, prepare yourself now.

Today begin to recover your lost strength by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, the standard Spring medicine and blood purifier, which creates a keen appetite, aids digestion and assimilation. Remember Hood's Pills if you need a mild laxative. adv

Has Never Been Down Sick Since Taking

PERUNA

Read this letter from Mr. Robt. Minnick, Grass Range, Montana.

"In 1900 I was out in Kansas running a threshing engine and the threshing crew had to sleep out of doors. One of the crew brought a Peruna Almanac to the engine one day and I was feeling very ill from sleeping out. I decided to give Peruna a trial and sent for a bottle of Peruna and a box of Peruna Tablets, which straightened me out in a hurry."

"I have never been down sick since that time. I do not take any other medicines except Peruna. I always keep it on hand. If I get my feet wet, get a cold, feel chilly, or a little bad, I always take Peruna. People should not wait until they are down sick and then take it, but should keep it on hand like I do and when they feel bad, they should use it."

PEOPLE WHO DO THINGS.

When a business man of any kind makes a success of his business he not only does it for himself, but maybe for dozens of others, or hundreds or thousands of others, his employees or those affiliated in the production of his specialty. This is the advantage he is to his fellow men, what he has given them as a result of his genius and his enterprise. All praise to such men, besides the personal prosperity which comes to them.

A few days ago the Woolworth and 10 cent store in Xenia was closed a whole day, as were the hundreds of other Woolworth stores all over the country because of the death of their projector and principal owner, Mr. Frank W. Woolworth, at his home in New York.

Mr. Woolworth belonged to the class of men "who do things." "Great oaks from little acorns grow" was well illustrated in the wonderful success of Mr. Woolworth's conception of the business, which from a meagre start grew into one of national importance, brought great wealth to its projector, and has resulted in the erection of the highest building in the world, the Woolworth Building in New York City.

Even if it be a commonplace, it cannot be too strongly insisted on in these days, when the whiners are sitting around and sighing for Bolshevik millenniums, to call attention to the career of Mr. Woolworth as proof "as strong as Holy Writ" that America spells glorious opportunity for capacity and genius that knows what to work at and how. Production and distribution on a large scale, with low prices, the familiar five and ten cent units, have reached their very apotheosis in his chain of stores. And while the money return to the true captain of commerce who planned all this was considerable, it is an insignificant fraction compared with the universal service that his method of doing business represented. And that a business so essentially humble in itself, dealing entirely with the lesser utilities of daily life, should have been so developed that the greatest building in the world bears the name and assaults the very heavens with the fame of Woolworth is a matter that we can claim is peculiar to America and Americans.

There is nothing, however, in the early story of Mr. Woolworth's life that distinguishes him from any other American boy who on farm and in the country store had his first lesson in the two oldest industries of the world, agriculture and the barter of small communities. Had the new-fangled, radical doctrines prevailed in the little New York town of Rodman in 1872 the future merchant prince and multimillionaire would have been assigned a certain position in the village and reassigned to other positions from time to time by the commune as he ceased to be more or less productive as the village opportunities allowed. But the country-store clerk knew one thing, and that was, that there was nothing to keep him back in America; and his first outside venture in Utica in 1879 did nothing but to convince him that "no pent-up Utica could confine his powers" any more than Lancaster, Pa., did later, or the succeeding towns and cities which came to look upon his stores as public conveniences and himself as a public benefactor.

OUR JOSHUA.

Perhaps in the effort to determine the relative validity of the voices of the nations round the peace table the old story of Franklin may appropriately be told once more.

A guest at dinner when the great Philadelphian was present said:

"We have three nationalities here: Mr. Franklin is American; here is an Englishman; I am a Frenchman; let us each propose a toast."

The Englishman said: "Here's to Great Britain, the sun that gives light to all the nations of the earth."

The Frenchman said: "Here's to France, the moon whose magic rays move the tides of the world."

Franklin had the last word: "Here's to George Washington, the Joshua who commanded the sun and moon to stand still, and they obeyed."

TALKING NONSENSE.

A fool discussing the league of nations in a hotel lobby said: "What interest have we in the far east, especially in Russia, in the Black Sea, the Baltic and half a dozen other seas? The thing for the United States to do is to get out of all that country, let the bolshevik take it and all of them go to perdition together if they insist upon it. It will not affect us."

If all that part of the world turned back to barbarism and primitive methods we would soon learn how it would affect us. The consular reports show that 18 per cent of the total trade of the United States, including exports and imports, during 1918 was done with the far east. The imports from the far east amounted to $1,041,899,402 and exceeded those of any other grand division, representing 34 per cent of the total imports into the United States, while the exports to the far east totaled $603,063,877. If that trade were cut off how many American workmen would be thrown out of employment in the United States? If this is to become a hermit nation, it will go back to the conditions of a hundred years ago, and what would become of the 100,000,000 population? Talking nonsense is sometimes dangerous.

Mr. Charles Hall, supervisor of the division of negro economics of the state of Ohio, and Mr. George Haynes, assistant secretary of labor department, Washington, D. C., were visitors to the school for a few hours, last Friday.

The Blind Boone Concert Company, assisted by Madam Marguerite Day, played before a packed house, last Saturday evening. Blind Boone's performance on the piano was very much appreciated by the students of the musical department. His rendition of the "Grand March Military," by Wollenhaupt, and "Rhapsodie Hungroise," by Liszt, were his master pieces. By invitation, Mr. Edgar Hayes played one of his own selections and immediately Blind Boone reproduced the piece, which showed his marvelous ability to reproduce music after once hearing it played.

Miss Hallie Q. Brown, assisted by a number of young ladies and gentlemen, gave a musical entertainment Sunday evening in the chapel of Shorter Hall. THE PROMOTER'S WIFE

BY JANE PHELPS.

LORRAINE DASHES BAB'S HOPES OF SOCIAL SUCCESS.

CHAPTER LX.

With an onrush almost staggering, all my doubts which had so long lain quiescent came back to me.

"Shady characters, undesirable acquaintances," Lorraine had called them. I could not very well refute her when I, his wife, had refused to receive them. How ignorant I was of society is apparent in the fact that I had never thought that Nell's peculiar business methods might frustrate my social ambitions. He had money. That was all that was required of him, so I imagined. I would do the rest. And now THIS!

"You must know if this is so, Bab, even if you do not know much of his affairs. Does he ever bring such men home with him?"

"No—not now."

"Why—not now?"

"Because I refused to receive them."

"I see—then it is true—all of it, I am afraid."

"For heaven's sake, Lorraine, say what you have to say and be done with it!" I cried in desperation. I felt as if a hand had clutched my heart. Yet I would not believe it as bad as Lorraine had hinted. She was a natural gossip—she exaggerated.

"Well, Bab, I will! It is the only way. I am more sorry for you than I can say, more than sorry that I encouraged you to think you could make a social success. I am sure, however, that it is of no use for you to go on. You have a lovely home, but the people you have planned to entertain will not visit you—I am afraid," she stopped. I waited in silence. Finally I could stand it no longer.

"Don't be afraid of hurting me, Lorraine. Go on, tell me all you have heard."

"I want you to know it will make no slightest difference in me, in our friendship. You DO know that, don't you, Bab?"

I nodded.

"But it is common rumor. A friend of my father's came to him about it because I have been with you so much. This man said that your husband's business methods are 'unsound'—that's father's word. This friend feared your husband would try to get my father interested in some of his schemes, and came to warn him. 'Father is getting old'—she said apologetically, 'and is easily influenced. We haven't any money to spare, you know. Then he also told father that Mr. Forbes was constantly seen with men of no standing; and that Mr. Forbes himself was suspected of being—well—not strictly honest; that no man could make money as fast as he made it. Live at the rate you lived, and do it honestly—without misrepresenting things, and promoting schemes which would not stand daylight.' She stopped a minute. Then: 'Most of what I have said, Bab, is quoted. You wanted to know, so I told you. The man who told father is Mr. Powers. I almost groaned. Mrs. Powers had been the woman whom I most desired to know.'

"There is one other thing I am going to tell you," she went on: "Perhaps I shouldn't—but I think you ought to know it: Mr. Forbes makes a rendezvous of Blanche Orton's home. He takes men there—perhaps the very ones you have refused to receive. They gamble and drink, and incidentally put over those big deals by which your husband makes so much money. Blanche has been terribly snubbed because of it—although she never cut ice socially. I liked her, and enjoyed her unconventionality. But since Orton died she has become almost too unconventional even for me."

"And you think it is no use to go on as we had planned?" I spoke now of an entertainment for charity, with which we had decided to make my first plunge into society. I was to throw open my lovely new home for the purpose.

"Absolutely not! You would only be humiliated. Enjoy your home with your family and those whom you already know, and who are not critical. But, under the circumstances, do not attempt the impossible."

We were interrupted by the butler. He brought me a telegram from Neil: "Have been called out of town. Back Friday." It was Monday.

To Be Continued.

THEY HANG UPSIDE DOWN NOW

BY MARGARET ROHE.
(Written for the United Press.)

'Twas at the beach, she was a peach. We had a mild flirtation; She raised her parasol, her eyes. My hopes, all with elation. But soon she closed her parasol, I sighed, with consternation, 'Twas quite a blow, for then, also. She closed the conversation.

New York, April 11.—It hasn't quite come to rings in the tip of our noses, but at least we will wear 'em in the tips of our ferrules this summer. All of the smartest, newest parasols which we will raise against the sun's rays have these handy rings, so that they will slip over the wrist when the parasol isn't in action and dangle along with the omnipresent bag.

Of course last season the parasols also sported these rings, but then they were attached to the handles. This season, just by way of variety, they have done a flip-flop to the other extreme and, fastened to the tip, they upset all precedent and all parasols by causing them to hang upside down when in repose.

To raise a parasol this summer will be the next best thing to raising a riot—that is, of course, a riot of color—for never have they seemed so gay and festive. Gorgeous plaids and figured silks vie with plain colors of most hectic hues. The flat Chinese shapes are most in favor. Some are just one tiny ruffle after another and some are bordered deeply with silken fringe. One bright green affair has embroidered designs of bright hued wool with a yarn fringe of all the assorted shades. On the airy chiffon models, fringe of the popular ostrich feather flus palpitate puchritudously.

A revival of hand painted parasols promises great success and a new note has been added by introducing the popular metallic touch. A stunning flat black parasol shows a sprawling vine design done in gold paint and a midnight blue is studded with gay plumed birds and iridescent butterflies fly their painted beauty across the ivory ribbed sectors of shimmering silk, and painted blossoms bloom there unwithered by the scorching sun.

Broad black and white stripes radiate smartly from many an ivory ringed ferrule tip and yet other stripes run madly round and round in dizzy circles.

Quaint parasols of calico and English print are made especially, matching up adorable old-time dresses of the same materials. There are gay cretome and figured linen parasols that belong to this non-silky set and a parasol made from one of those printed Indian bedspreads that you find in every well regulated Bohemian studio and every American peddler's pack raises the newest and most striking note in parasoldom up to date.

Those old-time allover Spanish and Chantilly lace parasols are coming back too. You know the kind that Grandma carried when she was just What Many Especially Need.

In these days of strain and stress, anxiety and worry, many people become pale, nervous, dyspeptic, in a word, all run-down. Their condition calls especially for iron—but iron in a form in which it is pleasant to take, agreeable to the stomach, easily assimilated and non-constipating. Iron is combined in this form with nux, celery, pepin and other tonics and digestives. In Pepton, a real iron tonic, which is accomplishing a great deal in restoring health and strength, vitality, vigor and vim.

Iron is indispensable to the perfect nutrition of the body. Pepton supplies it in therapeutic doses, and in a remarkably short time seems to make a new and perfectly working system out of an old and broken-down one, enriching the blood, giving good color to the lips, cheeks and ears, and brightening the eyes. Pepton is a product of the C. I. Hood Co., and is sold by all druggists.

TOO TIRED TO WORK?

If you get up in the morning tired, if you weary with little exertion and if vim and go are lacking, depend upon it that your liver is torpid. One dose of Schenck's Mandrake Pills will "wake up" that lazy liver and make you feel like new. Schenck's Mandrake Pills are worth a trial tonight.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime. Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

TAKE PEPSINCO

Don't burn good fuel in a poor stove

It's a useless waste of good fuel and a needless extravagance to try to burn it in a poor stove. It is absolutely wrong to expect good food to supply energy, vitality, health and happiness if your stomach won't absorb and assimilate it. If you cannot eat with enjoyment, if your food does you no good, if food distresses rather than benefits, then you have indigestion or dyspepsia. The best remedy to use is PEPSINCO.

Ask your druggist—he sells and recommends Pepsinco.

Public Sales

Have your sale announced FREE in this column early, so that you may claim your share of the public. These ads are run every day and are gratis with the large display advertising. We also furnish sale bills without charge. Let us tell you about it.
PUBLIC SALE advertising in the Gazette and Republican bring the crowds. In these days of automobiles the farmer has no time to stop along the road to read sale bills. He is to notify him of the sale date and articles to be offered for sale. It's the buyer from a distance who sees your ad in this paper, who jumps in to his auto and hustles to your sale, who pays what your stuff is worth. Your neighbor no longer can stand around and pick out the best of your goods at an absurd price, as he does when you have not properly advertised, and gotten a good crowd. Use the Gazette and Republican if you want the worth of everything you offer. Don't try to save on your advertising. 4-11 sale every day in the week at every week in the year. This is a sale of left overs and odds and ends. In this way you need not hold a sale of your own, if you have only a small amount of things to dispose of. TRY THIS FOR ECONOMY

"Conserving," "Economy" and "Thrift" are the present-day watch-words and well they may be. Are you conserving your health? Are you economical in buying treatment for disease? You should be: If your stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels and blood are not right in every sense, you should at once begin a treatment to restore good, healthy conditions. Sulphur, cream of tartar and herb extracts in a sugar-coated form, called Sulphur Tablets is the surest relief that is economical. Get them in sealed tubes from druggists. Sulphuro is the name—not sulphur." Mrs. J. J. Devlin, 518 W. 162nd St., New York City, writes: "I would also like to say I find your Sulphur Tablets O. K. and am very much pleased to recommend to all my friends." adv

BACK HOME FROM OVERSEAS SERVICE

The first Greene County nurse who has returned from overseas duty, is Miss Clara Clevelle, who arrived in this country about three weeks ago, after six months' Red Cross service near Chaumont, France.

Miss Clevelle hurried to this city upon learning that her young brother, Harold Clevelle, was to undergo an operation, and she is now at the McClellan Hospital nursing the little fellow with the same tender care which she so recently bestowed upon the shell shocked soldiers who came under her charge at Army Base Hospital No. 117.

Hospital No. 117, was known as a neurosis hospital, and was in an advanced sector, where night and day the nurses and patients could hear the distant booming of the big guns, and at night see the sky illuminated by the gigantic fireworks. While they were in danger from air raids, Miss Clevelle says that none of the aerial bombers ever visited them.

Miss Clevelle was in charge of a section of the hospital for shell shocked officers, in a beautiful old chateau which was turned over for this purpose. Nothing could be more beautiful than this place, or more restful to the distressed and weary nerves of her patients. Little artificial lakes in the grounds which mirrored the stately trees and grape vines with the purple fruit clinging to them, clambered up the walls of the lovely old buildings. The hospital proper, was a succession of barracks.

The continual rain during the winter season made this place a sea of mud, and Miss Clevelle says that the chief equipment of the doctors and nurses were raincoats and rubber boots.

Miss Clevelle, although a Xenia girl, received her training in Columbus, and enlisted from that city.

IMPRESSIVE SERVICES
FOR MISS CRAWFORD

Very beautiful and impressive were the funeral services which were conducted for Miss Mary Crawford at her late home on the New Jasper pike, Wednesday afternoon. Her pastor, the Rev. D. D. Dodds, officiated, and he based his remarks on the Twenty-third Psalm, drawing from it three thoughts, preparation for life, preparation for death, and preparation for eternity. He spoke very briefly of the Christian life and fine character of Miss Crawford.

Interment was in Woodland, and officiating as pallbearers were: William Hyslop of Springfield; J. H. Lackey of Jamestown; James Patterson, Frank Hagler, R. R. Grieve, all cousins of the decedent, and Ralph McClellan. Lovely flowers were tributes of many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Crawford of Bowling Green, nephew and niece of Miss Crawford, were here for the funeral.

CAMP OFFICIALS
INSPECT XENIA PLANT

Sanitary officials of Camp Sherman were in this city, Friday, conducting an inspection of the Springfield Dairy Products Company, which has the contract for furnishing the entire fresh milk supply to Camp Sherman.

The officials who visited the local plant were Col. Cade, camp surgeon; Major Pretz, camp sanitary inspector; and Lieutenant Schirmer, camp meat and dairy inspector.

They were the luncheon guests of Dr. R. A. Moye of this city, who was formerly camp veterinarian, holding the rank of captain, and located in the same office with these officials.

In the afternoon the officers went to Springfield to inspect the Springfield plant of the company.

TAX BLANKS ARE PLACED IN MAIL

Over 7000 tax blanks were placed in the mails Thursday by the county auditor.

Their receipt will bring to the minds of Greene county taxpayers the necessity of making their annual return of taxable property.

It is up to the individual to make his return, and failure to receive a blank does not exempt anybody. Blanks will be mailed to any one upon request, or they may be obtained at the auditor's office.

All property must be listed this year as of April 13, which is tax lien day.

Noble Sissle, tenor soloist, will be heard in a group of songs. Friday's Dayton Journal has a splendid likeness of Lieut. Sissle and a long write-up about him being singer extraordinary last year to the famous French general, Gouraud, the hero of the Dardanelles and Champagne. The article tells of Lieut. Sissle's delighting the one-armed warrior by singing the popular "Joan of Arc" translated in French. Many persons here are personally acquainted with Lieut. Sissle as he sang for a while at the Bijou theater during the ownership of Mr. Sutton.

Mrs. Hattie Spencer who has had charge of the devotional services at the Infirmary for the past four years, has been reappointed to that work. She will resign membership in the Third Baptist church on April 11th, in order that she may devote herself more wholly to mission work.

Mrs. Hattie Spencer went to Dayton Sunday to see her cousin, Mrs. Minnie Newson who has been sick for eight weeks. Mrs. Emma Jack accompanied her.

An important real estate deal was closed Thursday when Mrs. Curtis Hale purchased the Orie F. Clemmer property at 328 East Market street. The consideration was $2300.00. The property was sold through W. S. Rogers' agency.

Siriel Moran of Columbus, is visiting J. T. Rountree and family. He expects to return home Sunday.

THEATERS

BIJOU.

Bryant Washburn versatile screen actor, has an exceedingly clever comedy role in the "Way of a Man With a Maid," in which Paramount production he appears at the Bijou theater, Monday, matinee and night.

As a $21 a week shipping clerk, Washburn finds it mighty hard to lead a gay life, but his ambition for the better things in life finally leads to his business and social success.

There is a delightful romance, plenty of rich comedy and in all, Washburn has quite equalled his success in the "Skinner" serial.

Wanda Hawley is the girl and Fred Goodwin, Clarence Eytton, Billy Elmer and James Neill constitute the balance of the cast.

ORPHIUM.

It is said that Bessie Love has reached her highest attainment of the silent drama in her recent very successful work with Pathe. One of the most brilliant examples of her unqualified success is to be shown at the Orphium Monday when she appears in "Carolyn of the Coriers," a screen production of the novel of the same name by Ruth Endicott.

The plot is quite to Miss Love's taste and power of expression and is peculiarly fitting. She is well supported also by a cast including Charles Adler, Charlotte Mineau, Eunice Moore and Prince a fine, big dog.

BIG WAR PARTY IS ON IN XENIA

Xenia was captured this last "sleep" by Wahoo Tribe of Improved Order of Red Men, who conferred the mysteries of adoption on 24 pale-faces, at their wigwam on Main street. A big war dance was in progress for a time until the pale-faces were made to understand the mysteries of the forest. The next big dance of the warriors will be on the 17th "sleep" of this month. The Dayton Red-Skins will teach them the Warriors Degree, also on that "sleep" a big feed is expected to be a big event. Big Chief Ben Eckerle, who is known for his delicious bear, venison and Buffalo Chops will be in line to see everybody has a good time. All warriors are expected to have their scalping knives and war clubs ready. Another big class will be taken in, in about four weeks. About 15 pale-faces have declared their desire to learn the mysteries of the Improved Order of Red Men.
